Supervisors Support Child Protection Fair in Fontana

SAN BERNARDINO - The Board of Supervisors on Tuesday allocated $2,000 in one-time money to help the City of Fontana host the 15th Annual "Kids Count" Child Protection Fair on Saturday.

Second District Supervisor Paul Biane and Fifth District Supervisor Josie Gonzales, who both represent portions of the city, requested funding for the event from the Board's priority policy needs budget.

"The City of Fontana has always been very helpful and accommodating during the Second District's Health and Safety Fair at Jack Bulik Park," Biane said. "I wanted to return the favor by helping the city host a similar event geared toward the health and safety of children."

The 15th Annual "Kids Count" Child Protection Fair will feature free health screenings, immunization shots, children's activities, as well as child safety and health information. The Fontana Police Department is hosting the event with the help of other local law enforcement agencies, optometrists and dentists, and community organizations.

The event will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday in the Fontana Police Department parking lot located at 17005 Upland Ave. in Fontana. Call the Police Department at (909) 350-7758 for more information about the event.
